FNWACCB National Office

The First Nations Wellness/Addictions Counsellor Certification Board is making important changes to facilitate its transition as a national organisation dedicated to the certification of First Nations Specialists in the field of wellness and addictions.

New office premises are being set up by Vince Battistelli, FNWACCB interim management consultant, along with new telephone and fax numbers, including a 1 800 number that will enable stakeholders and partners from all parts of Canada to access the organisation in an easy and cost-free manner.

Please remember and share our new contact information with your network.
